Zoom link for attendees who are unable to join in person: ZOOM LINK
8:00-8:30	Coffee & Pastries provided in Ogle Lobby Welcome! Socialize and meet new colleagues
8:30 – 9:00	Opening Welcome – Carey Adams Introduction to Academic Affairs, new people & things
PRIZE DRAWING! We're "muffin" without our students 😊 One lucky in-person attendee will win delicious muffins and a signed copy of Dominique's Morning Muffins cookbook (Available on Amazon now!)
9:00 – 10:00 Session One	Topic: Student perspectives on learning & teaching Student Panel Coordinated by Dustin Bailey Who are our current and incoming HC students? What do they expect and need in an educational environment? A panel of our current Education students will share information about today's college students along with their perspectives as future educators and their experiences regarding COVID's impact on education.
10:15 – 11:15 Session Two	Topic: Early Alert Team student success stories Panel Coordinated by Katy Lowe Schneider &amp; Skip Dine Young We know that the EAT is comprised of some of our most student-centered faculty and staff colleagues who coordinate wraparound support systems for students, but how much do you know about what happens after you respond to those email inquiries? Let's dig in deeper to learn about ways our faculty and staff collaborate and celebrate some student successes.
11:15 – 11:30	Wrap-up &amp; Closing Remarks
11:30 – 1:00	All Campus employee lunch Brown Campus Center

Verbatim Panel Discussion Feedback: “Education Student Perspectives on Learning & Teaching” (15 responses)

loved hearing from these experts on both teaching and learning!

Great to hear from students- very proud

Very good!!

Always great to hear from students. But, sometimes it's helpful to hear from students who struggle.

The Q&A was the most useful to learn their insights about faculty and experiences in classes.

I was nice to hear the student perspective. It did have a k12 feel to it.

I would have liked more detailed discussion from the students about their individual experiences. The Q&A could have gone on longer, too

I loved and appreciated hearing from students!

this was a great idea! i loved hearing from the students. it would have been helpful to hear from more majors (different majors not just education).

I learned most from hearing students' experiences with accommodations and “pet peeves” to avoid.

Missed their audience for the presentation. As professionals who have been teaching a long time, think pair share explanations are not needed. During the question time when they shared their experiences as students was more helpful.

Enjoyed seeing the EDU students “apply their trade” -- it seemed to be a useful exercise for them while imparting a bit of useful info + reminders to us.

Not really anything surprising -- sounded like pre-pandemic pedagogy

The students did a great job presenting their material, but I found the information not particularly useful. It tried to cover too many things and ended up not really covering any of it.

Having actual students was great. Time for a lot of questions was a good choice.

Verbatim Panel Discussion Feedback: “Early Alert Team Student Success Stories” (15 responses)

Good information to have, not much to say.

some good points to keep in mind

Very good!!

Very helpful insights!

Useful handout with summaries of key tips. Thanks for all the support from EAT!

Get to the case studies sooner.

It was ok. A lot we've heard before.

Great tips for starting and progressing through the year!

Loved it!

Tips and strategies were informative and helpful

this was helpful. i loved the case study and the tips.

Informative and loved the tips. Will use lots of ideas about scripted messages and “hydration” stations.

*Mostly useful reminders and anecdotes; probably *extremely* useful for new or new-ish members of the faculty.*

Useful Chronicle article. What happens when there's a backlog of EAT reports?
